KATY KUHN

Katy Kuhn is a third generation Californian and has lived in the San Francisco Bay Area most of her life. Crashing landscapes, forlorn figures, abstracted objects are the subjects of her work. Katy has been painting for nearly a decade and focuses her process on balancing spontaneity and energy with discipline and intention. She aspires to make fresh and abstract images that are aesthetically interesting, yet edgy and ambiguous, and that stimulate one's own interpretation. In addition to studying the formal aspects of art at University of California at Santa Barbara and UC Berkeley, Kuhn has also studied monotype printmaking.
